

Lovewell Musical Theatre Workshop at the Hollywood Central Performing Arts Center

July 7th-19th, 2025

WORKSHOP HOURS + SCHEDULE

Week One: July 7th-11th 9am-4pm

Week Two: July 14th-17th 9am-4pm

Friday, July 18th 9am-until after the 7pm performance

Saturday, July 19th 1pm (special event with students and staff); 5pm performance; cast party

ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

Students will join a professional staff to brainstorm, write, design, compose, choreograph and produce an original work of musical theatre – all in two weeks. What will the show be about? It's up to the group! Lovewell workshops are a singular experience, unlike any other you've been a part of in the past; ideal for budding writers, builders, actors, musicians, designers, singers, composers, and imaginative young people of all types who want to dream big, work hard and experience the thrill of watching their collaborative creation come to life.

You'll get to build on the skills you already have and flex your creative muscles by learning some new ones – at Lovewell, everybody gets to do a little bit of everything. Whether you're a seasoned musical theatre vet seeking a new adventure or this your first step towards the stage, come spend your summer with other creative young folks just like you in a warmly inviting, wildly inspiring, and totally accepting environment. No matter who you are – you belong at Lovewell.